To assist players to find the group best suited to their skills, experience, and interests, we have asked our DMs to tell us about their campaign. The questions below are based on the feedback provided in the 2022 player survey. The information below has been provided by the DM for this group. It includes information about the campaign in general, how their group runs, allowed source books for characters and general reference, and anything else that might be useful for a player to know.

If you have questions about anything in this document, please contact the DM for more information using the email address provided. They will do their best to respond as soon as possible, but please allow them a few days as all of our D&D team are casual team members and have various commitments outside AV including work, study, and family commitments.

General campaign information

Briefly describe the setting, plot, and lore for this campaign.	A local lord in the human fief Dravia on the mystical continent of Sen'Tarlis has contracted several hero's to deliver his only child back to him. The child is with the travelling circus, whether he ran away or was kidnapped is not certain but irrelevant to Lord Trakean. You are given the general direction that the circus had taken when it left.

About character backstories : If a player creates a backstory for their character, will you ask about it / will they have a chance to share all or some of it?	If you have a backstory please submit your character sheet early so I can integrate it
About the DM
About you as a DM: what is your general DM style ?	Fast, Punchy, Consequence ridden fun
About you as DM: what is your campaign style ?	Dark Fantasy where I try to make every decision by the players count
About you as a DM: what does your typical D&D session look like?	Anywhere from Theatre of mind to draw maps and mini's. I have quick reference cards and all kinds of character sheets (eg Dyslexic friendly) for anyone who needs them.
About you as a DM: how story-heavy is your typical session?	I like giving players some story/lore, but it's not a large part of each session (less than 10 minutes total)
About you as a DM: what is your approach to rules in D&D?	I usually follow the rules but I can be flexible where needed.

About you as DM: how do you manage player involvement and communication, both in combat and outside initiative-based order?	I do follow initiative during combat, I try to keep the ball rolling out of it from player to player.
About you as a DM: do you have any house rules / homebrew rules that you use in all of your campaigns? If you don't use a rule for all campaigns, please mention that and why you would use / not use that rule.	There are homebrew rules that I do use that I will fill you in on the day. None of them are to extraneous to manage. Example: Your death saving throws do not reset every time you are healed, they carry until you've had a long rest. Because of this enemies will not finish you off while your downed.
About you as a DM: what role do magic and spells play in your campaigns?	Magic is present and Magic is hard.
About you as a DM: what should players expect in their first D&D session in this group?	Dropped into the general area of the adventure, maybe right into the action. Players are expected to team up to survive
About you as a DM: is there anything that you do not allow in your sessions?	Anything above the content restrictions. So no Cannibalism, Sexual themes, Roleplaying Torture etc.
About you as a DM: what do you do to make your game world inclusive?	Some of the Gods don't have a gender. My magic system is gendered which can give you the possibility to be magically trans. The Tieflings and Asmir have the highest gender neutral populations due to their lineage. Dwarfs, Elfs , Orcs and most humans really don't care if you're gay. I am flexible on these matters to encourage character role play.
About the players
About player engagement: does this campaign continue in real-time between sessions (ie: do players need to email you between sessions to provide character updates)?	Not for this one unless the characters agree in game about the amount of time that has passed between sessions.
About the players: what D&D experience level is this session suitable for?

Never played before	Yes
Beginner (played 1-2 individual sessions, not a confident player)	Yes
Intermediate (played for a while, somewhat confident player)	Yes
Advanced (played for several years / confident player)	Yes
Is there anything else that a player joining this group should know?	Send me your character sheet 2 weeks in Advance. Start at Level 1. Relax and sit down, it's ok to feel things. you're going to have fun.
